What Does Each URL Cost?

On paid plans, a submitted URL costs a fraction of a cent. Based on a 30-day month at full daily usage, Basic works out to about $0.0032 per URL, Pro about $0.0021, and Enterprise about $0.0018. The more you submit, the lower your cost per URL.

Compare that with the hours spent on manual Request Indexing in Google Search Console, which handles one URL at a time and only works on sites you have verified.

Frequently Asked Questions

Is there really a free plan?

Yes. The Free plan costs $0 and needs no credit card. Many backlink indexers only offer paid credits, so you can test Bulk URL Indexer Tool with your own URLs first.

How much does Bulk URL Indexer Tool cost?

Plans cost $0, $9.54, $16, or $32 a month. Even Enterprise costs less than many single-method indexers charge for a few thousand credits.

How much do I save with yearly billing?

Yearly billing takes 5% off every paid plan. For example, Pro drops from $16 to $15.20 a month.

What happens if I reach my daily URL limit?

Additional URLs wait until your limit resets the next day. If you hit the limit often, upgrading gives you more daily capacity and more engines.

Which plan includes all 17 indexing engines?

Pro and Enterprise use all 17 engines. Most competing tools use far fewer methods, which is why more engines can mean faster discovery.

Do I get API access?

API access and webhooks come with Pro and Enterprise. They let you send URLs automatically from your CMS, scripts, or SEO workflow.

Can agencies resell the service?

Yes. Enterprise includes a white-label option, so agencies can offer indexing to clients under their own brand.

Can I change plans later?

Yes. Start on any plan and move up as your indexing volume grows.
